2023 IB Recap

IT WAS A GREAT YEAR!

In two weeks it will be 2024. Another year has gone by and so many amazing things have happened. I am excited to go over everything with you that we have accomplished this year and even speak on what is coming in the new year. Infinite Broadcasting has been around since August 2020 and I didn't let Covid stop us from ever moving forward. The goal is to become the place where streamers and content creators can Learn, Converse, and Grow and although we may not be as big as some of your favorite platforms, we are trying our best!

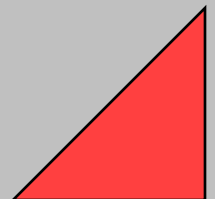

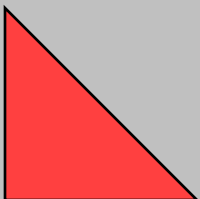

As of December, we have gained 50 new users in the community. This brings us to a total of 169 users, which is pretty cool! Our goal was to reach 250 and we started the year with 119 users. The Achievement that we gave out the most is 'IB Pro II'- to 115 users! This achievement is part of the Time Series and is for users who have reached one year in the community. How amazing that about 68% of our community has been on our platform for over a year!

In May, I went to my second ever event- Thy Geekdom Con. This is an Anime, Gaming, and Pop Culture event that is held every year in Oaks, PA and I was honored to be invited! I actually met the founders of TGC when I went to GXL last year! You can see our interview with them during the Infinite Vlog #2 (Part 2) video, but be sure to check out the Infinite Vlog #2 (Part 1). It was very fun to speak to so many Cosplayers and vendors who make amazing art and trinkets. I also got to see some musical talents since there were many performing acts in the three-day event schedule as well as participate in the Cosplay Contest although I didn't win. It was also pretty awesome to learn that there is an association for Pinball; I didn't know that. I think my favorite part of the event, however, was when I got to dress up and two others did the ICONIC Spiderman Point Meme. It was definitely a highlight for others around us as well. Check out the Infinite Vlog #3 (Part 1) & (Part 2). Also, be sure to watch our other videos yourself and subscribe to our YouTube for more amazing content!

I CAN'T WAIT TO GO TO MORE EVENTS!

In August, Infinite Broadcasting turned 3! I also had the honor of Interviewing some members of MCS, an eSports organization that wants to connect eSports and the community. Effortless, Strongsage, and Psygib were all competing to place in the QPL World Championship. Check out all of the game clips and contests on the Quake Champions YouTube channel.

There were three featured users this year- 1 artist and 2 musicians. Tom is an artist from New York who has been making art since his youth. Rodd is a rapper from El Paso, Texas and I featured his song “Keep Going”. Danyielle Gates is a singer from Indianapolis, Indiana and I featured her song “Like That”. Besides their individual interviews, I also spoke to them during the Infinite Interview 2023.

Although I do virtual events- the Virtual Meet & Greet, I had the goal to host 3 In Person Events this year as well as raise $1,000 for local charities. I was able to work on both of those goals in November; I hosted a S’mores Night where guests could donate $1 per s’more. I ended up raising $192 and donated it to Valors Veterans Community AZ. I didn’t reach the goals, but something is better than nothing, so I am proud.

READY FOR ANOTHER GREAT YEAR WITH INFINITE BROADCASTING?

Next year, I would really like to start getting Infinite Broadcasting out in the world; I think I will keep the same goals of Reaching 250 users in the community, Raising $1,000 for local charities, Hosting 3 In Person Events, and then Sponsoring 12 streamers. I would like to start streaming more on the website, promoting more streamers and content creators, and offering more for the community members. I’m taking things one step at a time, but slow and steady wins the race. Join the Infinite Broadcasting Community today!

RIP TWITCH?

WE ALL KNEW THIS WAS COMING

Usually, in a bout, one punch isn't going to knock out the opponent. However, if done with the correct technique, it WILL do some damage. This year, there have been many mishaps with Twitch that seem to have an impact on the future of the platform. But, is the seniority of the platform enough to buff out the dents in the armor?

In most recent news, social media has been taken away with the fact that Twitch is dropping their support for streaming in South Korea. To make things simple, they [Twitch] are claiming that the country is not cost effective and although there have been major attempts to lower the costs, they are operating at a loss. Twitch is still going to attempt to support Korean Content Creators the best they can, but ultimately, the final day of support is February 27, 2024. You can read more about that Here. (If you are living in Korea, read Here).

In other news, streamers are pushing the boundaries of the Twitch Terms Of Service so much, it seems the community doesn't know what to think. Is streaming shirtless really necessary just to grow your community? Streamers like Morgpie seem to think so, as she and a few others in the 'Just Chatting' category can be seen on the feature page with thousands of viewers waiting to see an accidental slip- Which would hopefully get her account suspended; however, on Dec 11, she was banned and unbanned Dec 14. (Seems like a short amount of time to be banned to me). She has a history of short bans nevertheless; she has been banned a total of five times now according to StreamerBans and they have not lasted longer than a day until now. For whatever reason she thinks it's okay to stream shirtless with the camera barely showing their chest is beyond me. Streaming has seemed to diminish to a point where streamers feel like they HAVE to have sexual content to feel relevant and it is unfortunate. Even streamers like Ms Malzy have spoken about this matter-

TWEET FROM MS MALZY ON X

With the expression “Sex Sells” it's not tough to see why streamers can get away with these actions since it can monetarily benefit both the streamers and the platform, but if you want to learn more about how to live stream the correct way without needing to “sell yourself”, be sure to reach out to Infinite Broadcasting anytime. Our Video Lessons for all streamers are going to be available in 2024. We also have Specific Discussion Groups (SDGs) for all types of content and Forums for all platforms and content. Join any of them today and thrive with other content creators.

Also, the more activity you do in the community, the more Achievements and Rubies you gain. On December 13, Twitch made a forum about the update of their approach to sexual content and how they are going to label this type of content. (Read about that here). I'm not saying that these events are going to necessarily cancel Twitch; and honestly, I do feel that the platform has way too much leverage to be canceled, however, I do feel that if nothing changes in a positive direction for the better, other platforms such as Kick Streaming and Live Space may be able to officially catch up. If you want to talk with other streamers in our community about Twitch, you are welcome to check out the Infinite Broadcasting Twitch Forum.

WHAT A YEAR FOR MUSIC?

Ah... the Holidays, where families get together to celebrate, children get to clean up their acts in hopes that Santa brings them presents, and everyone can work on trying to remember the great times of the year with goals of the next one being even better. We sat down with our featured Musicians of 2023 again to see if they reached their goals for the year and what they are planning to do in 2024.

Danyielle, did you reach your goal of putting more money in savings and releasing two new singles?

I DID save more money and I dropped one single called "Uncomfortable"; I did want to release one, but there are more things I want to do with the song.

Rodd, let's talk about THEM Boys. With the fact that they are 10-3 right now, do you feel like they are still going to break your heart?

Right now, they are doing good, but once again, I am a realest- I'm not gonna say anything until like February when everything's already said and done.

What are some things that you are wanting to accomplish next year in music or life?

Danyielle said- In all areas of my life, I would like to work on being more consistent, which brings more life changing outcomes that I want. Rodd- I want to release more music and I agree with Danyielle, being more consistent; The more I do it, the better I get.

SOME TIPS TO HELP YOU BECOME A BETTER STREAMER!

THIS MONTH'S TIP:

CHOOSING A PLATFORM (MICO)

Let's continue on this trend of learning about streaming platforms. This month we're talking about Mico. According to the Apple Store (Download for Apple here), Mico is an exquisite app to meet new people, have a chat, explore something fun, and experience exciting live streaming together. Although this is very similar to other apps, let's go over the features of Mico.

First, Mico has easy ways to sign up- Facebook, Google, Phone Number, or Email. This means that it should be easy for you to sign back into the app should you ever have to log back into it. This is great especially with the fact that the app will sign you off after some time of inactivity for security purposes. Second, the Homepage has a few tabs; Follow- which shows you streamers who are live that you follow, Trend- which you start on upon joining the app and is the Feature Page, Explore- which allows you to see streamers in other countries, PK- which shows a list of PKs (Player Knockouts) that are actively taking place, and Guest Call- Which shows streams that have a guest featured in the stream (Similar to the Beam on Live Me and the Box on MeetMe). Along the bottom of the screen you will see Home- which has the pages listed above, Game- which shows In App games such as Yummy Jackpot and Ludo and you can use coins to play, Social- which shows your messages and notifications, and Me- which is your profile and shows your Moments and Honor Wall of Badges. Other than that, when you go to the streams, you can comment to talk to others as well as gift your favorite streamers. As you can see, if you want a more simple way to go live, Mico is the way to go. You can always download it by going to their website. If you want to talk with other streamers in our community, you are welcome to check out the Infinite Broadcasting Streaming Platforms Forum. If you want to speak with streamers who stream on Mico, feel free to check out the Infinite Broadcasting Mico Forum anytime!

DID YOU KNOW THIS AMAZING FACT?

On September 25, 2023, Kick Streaming reached a record of 981,385 Peak Online Viewers.
